Notification regarding the contribution of the Netherlands to the Multilateral System

Dear mr. Bhatti,

The International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (the Treaty) has established a Multilateral System of Access and Benefit-sharing.

Regarding the coverage of the Multilateral System, Article 11 specifies that the Multilateral System shall include all plant genetic resources for food and agriculture listed in Annex 1 that are under the management and control of the Contracting Parties and in the public domain, and that Contracting Parties invite other holders of the plant genetic resources for food and agriculture listed in Annex 1 to include these in the Multilateral System.

Herewith, the Netherlands wishes to notify to you that the following plant genetic resources for food and agriculture listed in Annex 1 and maintained in the Netherlands have been included in the Multilateral System.

1. The collections held by the Centre for Genetic Resources, the Netherlands of Wageningen University Research Centre, located in Wageningen. Through the website <http://www.cgn.wur.nl> detailed data on the composition of the collection and user procedures to order samples are readily available.
- ~~2. The Solanaceae collection held by the Radboud University in Nijmegen and consisting of non-tuber bearing wild species. The website <http://www.bgard.science.ru.nl> provides access to the collection's database. The collection was abolished in 2019~~
3. The apple collection of the Pomologische Vereniging Noord-Holland that contains traditional Dutch apple varieties. Information about this collection is available through <http://www.applescollecties.nl>.
4. The apple collection of the Stichting Fruithof Frederiksoord that contains traditional Dutch apple varieties. Information about this collection is available through <http://www.fruithof-frederiksoord.nl>
